Christie Releases Transition Reports

Governor Chris Christie this morning released 19 reports prepared by his Transition New Jersey subcommittees, which conducted thorough reviews of all departments, agencies and authorities of the state and made assessments and recommendations to improve, shrink and, in some cases, eliminate wasteful or inefficient government operations.

The Transition Team included 21 subcommittees which produced the 19 reports, each focusing on a different sector of state government. In releasing the reports the Governor said, "These reports are full of bold ideas and recommendations for change from a bipartisan group of individuals from the private and public sectors. In the coming weeks, my cabinet and I will be consulting with subcommittee members, reviewing each of the reports, and carefully considering these recommendations for improvement and change."
